

October 2015

Beth McGee has cleaned my house for the past decade and I wholeheartedly recommend her services. Beth is extremely thorough, trustworthy, and a genuinely kind and thoughtful individual. She has kept me from losing my sanity as my household grew from two adults and two cats to two adults, two children, two cats, and two dogs. That's a lot of pet hair! Her biweekly visits have saved myself and my husband from countless arguments about cleaning and have preserved my weekends for family time rather than mopping and scrubbing.

I work from home and have really enjoyed my conversations with Beth during her visits. She is personable and interesting and involved in our local community. That said, I have also felt completely at ease leaving a key for her and having her in my home when I have to travel for work. She is extremely respectful and is always punctual. She has asked to change our scheduled appointments only a handful of times over the years and has always given me plenty of notice. She's also been very gracious and accommodating when I've asked her to rearrange her schedule for me.

My favorite time to be in my home is the evening after Beth has been there to clean. I really cannot say enough about how much stress she has saved me and how much I appreciate the time with my family that her services have enabled me to enjoy.
